The American Society of Naval Engineers in conjunction with Old Dominion University (ODU) will host a fleet luncheon on 24 August 2009 at the Vista Point Club at Naval Station Norfolk to outline the outstanding educational opportunities available for military members and their spouses under the post 9-11 G.I. Bill.

Learn about the military education benefits available to you, up to $6000 for military spouse career advancement! If you or your spouse has considered continuing education or professional development, then this program may be your venue to achieving your academic goals. Ms. Clair Dorsey is the Director of the Professional Development Center at ODU and continues to get the word out to military members about these new benefits. ASNE is a professional society of naval engineers committed to promoting opportunities for education in math and science. ASNE and ODU are teaming up to provide Norfolk area sailors this information.

The cost for the lunch and lecture is $15. Those wishing to attend are required to register on-line at www.asne-tw.org (events tab). Attendees are encouraged to pay on line after registering, but also have the option to pay at the door. Contact Mike D'Amato at 757-226-1114 or michael.damato@ngc.com with any questions.
